The WA Office of the ABS produces a quarterly publication, Western Australian Statistical Indicators (ABS cat. no. 1367.5), which provides a comprehensive overview of recent developments in the state economy. Each issue contains a series of statistical tables covering: state accounts; prices; consumption; investment and finance; construction; international trade; mining and energy; agriculture; tourism; the labour market; population; and crime. In addition, each release includes feature articles on issues of economic and social importance to Western Australia. The National Regional Profile (NRP) presents a brief statistical summary of key economic and social information for various levels of the Australian Standard Geographical Classification (ASGC). It includes data from a variety of ABS and non-ABS sources. Broad indicators include Estimated Resident Population, some Census data, Births and Deaths, Unemployment, Income Support Customers, Taxable Income, Building Approvals, Motor Vehicle Sales and Agriculture. The NRP for Western Australia can be accessed through the ABS website at <www.abs.gov.au>.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

ABS publications draw extensively on information provided by individuals, businesses, governments and other organisations. Their continued cooperation is very much appreciated; without it the wide range of statistics published by the ABS would be unavailable for use by the community. Information received by the ABS is treated in strict confidence as required by the Census and Statistics Act 1905.

2007 Western Australia at a glance

Western Australia had an estimated population of 2 050 884 in June 2006. This accounts for less than 10% of Australia's population, although Western Australia has the largest land area (2 532 400sq km) of any Australian State or Territory.

Western Australia has a coastline of 12 500km, accounting for 34% of Australia's total coastline.

The State capital is Perth, founded on 12 August 1829. In June 2006 the estimated population of the Perth Statistical Division was 1 507 949.

This brochure provides a snapshot of Western Australia; more detail can be found in the variety of publications released by the ABS.
