PREFACE

By the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia, the Parliament of the Commonwealth is empowered, subject to the Constitution, 'to make laws for the peace, order, and good government of the Commonwealth, with respect to . . . Census and statistics.' In the exercise of the power so conferred, a Census and Statistics Act was passed in 1905, and in the year following the Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics was created. The first Official Year Book was published early in 1908. The publication here presented is the fifty-ninth Official Year Book issued under the authority of the Australian Government.

In the various chapters of the Year Book, and in the special index which precedes the general index, there are references to special articles, background material and items of historic interest which have appeared in previous issues.

Among new or revised material included in this issue, the following items may be especially mentioned.

Chapter 2. Physical Geography and Climate. The statistics in this chapter with the exception of area and distance have been converted to metric units.

Chapter 3. General Government. A list of all Australian Government Departments and their functions, page 76. The detailed results of the Constitution Alteration Referendums of 8 December 1973 are shown in the Appendix.

Chapter 5. Repatriation. Results of a survey of ex-service personnel, their widows and children, conducted in November 1971, page 112.

Chapter 7. Population. Final results from the 1971 Census of Population and Housing, including selected characteristics of the population.

Chapter 9. Housing and Building. Final figures from the 1971 Census of Population and Housing, page 191.

Chapter 10. Labour, Wages and Prices. Details of a new wholesale price index relating to metallic materials used in the manufacture of fabricated metal products, page 241.

Chapter 12. Transport, Communication and Travel. Preliminary results of a survey of motor vehicle usage, page 356. An article on the development of telecommunications in Australia, page 378.

Chapter 13. Welfare Services. Results of three surveys conducted in 1971 and 1972 by the Department of Social Services, page 419: (i) morbidity of new invalid pensioners in Queensland, South Australia, Western Australia and Tasmania, (ii) social service pensioners in New South Wales and Victoria receiving Repatriation war pension and, (iii) characteristics of unemployment benefit recipients.

Chapter 14. Public Health. A brief description of the benefits available to patients in approved nursing homes, page 431.

Chapter 16. National Accounts. This issue revises the structure of the accounts which is now based on the international standard described in the United Nations' A System of National Accounts (1968).

Chapter 20. Employment and Unemployment. Two new tables have been included on Labour Force, the first showing employment status by birth place and year of arrival in Australia, page 710 and the second showing unemployed persons according to age and whether Australian-born, page 715.

Chapter 24. Forestry. An article on softwood plantations.

Chapter 26. Mineral Industry. Brief details of the changes in the control of the export of certain metals, petroleum, petroleum products and all raw and semi-processed minerals, page 919.

Chapter 29. Final results from the 1968-69 Censuses of Wholesale Trade, and Retail Trade and Selected Services.

Most of the statistics contained in this volume relate to the years ended June or December 1972. More detailed statistics on subjects dealt with in the Year Book are available in the various annual reports published by this Bureau, and more recent statistics are contained in the Digest of Current Economic Statistics (monthly), the Monthly Review of Business Statistics, the Quarterly Summary of Australian Statistics, and in other publications issued monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or yearly. The last pages of this volume contain a list of current and recent printed publications available for purchase, showing issue numbers, dates, and prices.

SYMBOLS AND OTHER FORMS OF USAGE IN THIS YEAR BOOK

The following symbols, where shown in tables, mean:

n.a. —not available

. . —nil or less than half the final digit shown, or not applicable

p —preliminary—figure or series subject to revision

r —figure or series revised since previous issue

n.e.i.—not elsewhere included

n.e.c.—not elsewhere classified

n.s. —not stated

m.—males; f.—females; p.—persons

— Break in continuity of series (where drawn across a column between two consecutive figures).

A blank space in a column of figures means that the figure concerned is not yet available.

The following abbreviations are used for the titles of the Australian States and Territories and the Commonwealth of Australia: N.S.W. (New South Wales), Vic. (Victoria), Qld (Queensland), S.A. (South Australia), W.A. (Western Australia), Tas. (Tasmania), N.T. (Northern Territory), A.C.T. (Australian Capital Territory), Aust. (Australia), Cwlth (Commonwealth).

In general, the statistics in this volume relate to the States and Territories of the Commonwealth of Australia, i.e. they exclude particulars of the External Territories of Australia, which, however, are specifically dealt with in Chapter 28, The Territories of Australia. A few series elsewhere include particulars of Papua New Guinea because of the nature of the subject-matter—these series are indicated.

Yearly periods shown as e.g. 1972 refer to the year ended 31 December 1972; those shown as e.g. 1971–72 refer to the year ended 30 June 1972. Other yearly periods are specifically indicated. The range of years shown in table headings, e.g. 1901 to 1971–72, indicates the period covered, but does not necessarily imply that each intervening year is included.

Values are shown in Australian dollars ($) or cents (c) unless another currency is specified.

Reference numbers. In the introductory paragraphs to most chapters a list of relevant publications is shown. In each case the reference number is shown in brackets and this should be quoted when ordering Bureau publications.

Any discrepancies between totals and sums of components in tables are due to rounding.

Unless otherwise indicated, the British system of weights and measures is used in this issue. In the 1974 issue of the Year Book statistics will be shown in metric units. Metric conversion factors are shown on page 1047. The weights and measures used in recording production, etc. of different commodities are as follows:

Bushel (bus)	.	.	=	approximately 2,218 cubic inches
Gallon (gal)	.	.	=	Imperial gallon of approximately 277 cubic inches
Pound (lb)	.	.	=	pound avoirdupois
Cental	.	.	=	100 pounds
Hundredweight (cwt)	.	.	=	112 pounds
Ton	.	.	=	Long ton of 2,240 pounds
Short ton	.	.	=	2,000 pounds
Bale (of wool)	.	.	=	approximately 300 pounds
Barrel (crude oil)	.	.	=	approximately 35 imperial gallons

Cereals, fruit and certain other products are generally recorded in bushels. While the weight of a bushel varies according to the nature of the product, it is also subject to considerable variation for individual products on account of such things as variety and method of packing. However, average bushel equivalent weights, as set out below, may be used for the conversion of each of these products to pounds weight avoirdupois.
